MONEY TO BURN

AT RATE ASKED BY OLD COMPANY FOR NEW FRANCHISE.

NO INCREASE IN TAXES

Ford Says That Surplus Income, With Interest at 4 Per Cent Will Pay for the Plant.

Editor Democrat-Forum: The sole topic of the day in Maryville is water and taxes, and I believe here is a proposition the majority of the people will agree on. One is, taxes are high enough—in fact, too high, and should be reduced if possible. The other is, our water works system is bad in quality and quantity and should be improved if possible. Now, let me say right here, I am not for increasing taxes, and if I thought this bond issue would increase taxes I would vote against the bonds. But I think we would be voting future revenues, and think figures will bear me out in this statement.

We are now paying a water tax of $2,970 per year for fire plugs. And I think under municipal ownership, even if our plant was clear of indebtedness, that it is right for property owners to pay for their fire protection. If they did not the water consumer would have it to pay, thereby increasing the price of water; and, on the other hand, I don't think that it is right for the taxpayers to pay all the cost of a plant in order to furnish water at reduced rates to the consumers, and so here is the problem we will figure on later, and no man has stood stronger against high taxation than I. Only one bond issue has received my support (the paving bonds), but when I look at our magnificent public school building, and compare its cost and construction with the State Normal, I am ashamed to admit I voted against the school bonds. And right here this suggests another thought. This building was built by a Maryville contractor, its construction was overseen by our school directors at no salary, and I am lead to believe stronger than ever that we could find four men in Maryville honest enough and capable of managing our water system, notwithstanding the insinuation of some to the contrary.

But let's get back to the water proposition. Some time ago there appeared an article in The Democrat-Forum that went into facts and figures very minutely, showing that at our present water rates that the income from a plant costing $100,000 would in twenty years pay for itself, and no one has attempted to show where these figures are incorrect or misleading. But we will suppose that with a little bad luck or management that it would not quite come up to these figures. Don't you believe if the people were getting good service and good well water, and knew that in twenty years the city would own its water system, free from indebtedness, and would then be able to reduce the water rate or city taxes, don't you think they would be willing to pay a little higher rate? I don't believe it would be necessary to raise the rate one cent from what it is today to pay

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK TO OPEN SATURDAY

The postal savings bank in the local postoffice, which was established in Maryville by the postoffice department at Washington, will open for business on Saturday, August 19. It is not expected that the innovation here will be very popular. There are nearly one hundred towns in the state that have postal savings bank in connection with the postoffice.

The present postoffice facilities here are of the highest standard, yet it is certain that the installation of a postal bank will hamper the service, for the reason that it will create additional work without providing additional employes to carry on the work, thus throwing it upon the present force. Naturally the force now employed at the office has not reached an enthusiastic state over the inauguration of a postal bank.

The maximum amount, as prescribed by the federal statutes, which may be deposited in a postal bank is $500. The experiment proves that the depositors are, for the most part, foreigners and frugal Americans of the laboring class. The deposits are not made for periods of long duration, but the government institution is patronized by these simply as a place to secure their savings until they have enough to buy a small business or to start buying a home.

News of Society and Womens' Clubs

Social Life at Chautauqua.

The center of Maryville's social life this week is at Chautauqua park. Everybody seems to just love everybody else, consequently the campers are so mixed up visiting with each other that they are seldom at home, except at eating time, and then they often go over, down, up or across the camp to eat with somebody they wish especially to talk with. "Seldom In" is the name of one camp. Very appropriate it is, too, for no one can remember who it is that stays there.

"Everybody's In" is another camp that looks decidedly attractive, but our knock was answered by an echo. Chairs are set invitingly about the door, and on one is a book which says, "Please register." We did, and found that Mr. Lawrence Schumacher and Mr. Roy Moore were the hosts at this camp. They are two of our young business men who cannot be at the camp except in the evenings and over night, but they have very generously given their camp over to their friends, known and unknown, for a resting place during the day. Quite a list of callers have registered in their "guest book."

"Camp Knabb" is another good place, and belongs to a neighborhood west of town, who came there for refreshment while attending the Chautauqua. Two families are constantly in camp there—Mr. and Mrs. John Knabb, Mr. and Mrs. John C. White and daughter, Clydell. The other members of Camp Knabb are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Trullinger, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Willhoyte, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Willhoyte, Mrs. Lillie Shelton and Mrs. M. J. Willhoyte. On Tuesday the guests at this place were Rev. H. K. Morgan of Quitman and two little girls, Vivian Olney of Concordia, Kan., who is visiting in the city, and Gladys Owen Aley, who were guests of Clydell White. Mrs. Knabb's brother, E. O. Stark of Philbrook, Mont., who has been visiting her, left for his home Tuesday morning.

There is always a happy time at "Parnell Camp." Everybody says they are laughing and talking and singing there all the time. Tuesday evening the company that took dinner there included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Klass and family, Henry Klaas and family, C. J. Colden and family, Dr. Day and family, H. H. Conrad and family, Henry Wright and family, Elias Klaas, Rev. A. C. Brown and family, Mrs. O. K. Herndon and son, and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Woodard.

The camp of Mr. and Mrs. Will Gex of Graham is a lively place. With them are the Misses Maud, Elsie, Nelle and Hilma Talbott.

Mrs. Catharine Miller and Mrs. W. H. Brown were dinner guests on Tuesday evening at the tent occupied by Misses Bessie Brown, Marie Wells, Emma Kildow, Helene Young, Ivy Hawkins and Josephine Keeler. These girls are chaperoned by Mrs. A. W. Hawkins.

GREED, AVARICE AND LUST FOR GAIN ARE GREATEST ENEMIES COUNTRY HAVE

So Says Ex-Gov. Hanley in His Lecture Tuesday Afternoon—A Large Attendance in Session at the Chautauqua—Hinshaw Grand Opera Company Tonight.

Tuesday was a big day at the Chautauqua, and many people were in attendance from out of town. On account of the hot weather many stayed away in the afternoon, but in the evening a big crowd was present to take in the program. Great interest is being taken and the Chautauqua will go down this year as the most successful one ever given here.

Hanley's Lecture.

Ex-Governor Hanley of Indiana delivered a really great address at the Chautauqua grounds Tuesday afternoon. He belongs to the rugged old school of pioneer orators, commands your interest by his great earnestness and holds it by the power of a mind trained to analysis and argument and charms with his versatility of expression.

He announced in the beginning that he stood for a freer people, a saloonless land and a disarmed world. He traced the establishment and rise of this government to its present greatness, told how the pioneers, fleeing from the oppressions of a king, sought refuge in the wildernesses of the new world and blazed the way for a new and unparalleled civilization. He described the birth of the new world in the pain and agony of privation, starvation, disease and death as the first link in a chain forged by Providence.

He told how these pioneers, in their wisdom, evolved the greatest constitution the world has ever known, how the great Chief Justice Marshall was raised up to construe it, how men like Daniel Webster were brought into the senate to expound its principles in language and eloquence that have never been equalled, and finally how men, having sown in the error of slavery, reaped the whirlwind of war, and the solidarity of the government so beautifully formed was threatened.

The horrible picture of the civil war was graphically portrayed to show the devotion to principle, the courage, the valor and the greatness of the American people. A great tribute was paid to both Grant and Lee and to Lincoln, whose rise from his humble surroundings, he believed, was providential.

The solidarity of a government founded upon principle and not men prevailed, but the country which has grown too great for wars of blood still has its wars of peace. The liberty guaranteed to the people many take for license, and its aggressions upon the public welfare called for the patriotism of peace.

The country needs more statesmen and fewer politicians. The difference, he said, is that the statesman studies to know what he can do for the people, while the politician studies to know how he can do his people. The statesman desires to serve his people and the politician desires his people to serve him.

The country needs more patriotism and less jingoism. Here he paid his respects to Captain Hobson for his ungrounded fears of a war with Japan and to Colonel Roosevelt for continually yelling for war when there is no war. Clean hands and not arms, he declared, is what is wanted. The enemies of this nation now, he said, are not foreign, though he wished they were.

The greatest enemies this country has are greed, avarice and lust for gain. These are responsible, he declard, for 75 per cent of the crimes committed in this country. As an experienced lawyer, he proposed, if any one doubted it, to submit a bill of particulars that would carry conviction in any court. He mentioned a long list of crimes against the government and public welfare familiar to the reading public, closing with the election of William Lorimer to a seat in the United States senate. Should some one say "Why the senate cleared Lorimer last winter," he answered, "Nay, nay. The senate just convicted itself."

To those declaring that human nature could not be changed and that a saloonless country was a forlorn hope, he answered that human nature had been changed during the evolution of citizenship and that the "forlorn hopes" of yesterday are the actual realities of today. When the Saviour hung mangled upon the cross Christianity was a forlorn hope; when Martin Luther came upon the world's stage the reformation was a forlorn hope, and so on through the list of the world's great achievements. He thanked his Maker for such forlorn hopes.

Tuesday Evening.

Tuesday evening's entertainment was excellent and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience. The first part of the evening was given over to the Orphean Male Quartet, and they continued their most interesting work of the afternoon. Their numbers were well selected and executed with a very pleasing variety that held the attention of everyone. And aside from their vocal and instrumental numbers a hit was made by the chalk artist in the way of a few striking cartoons.

Mr. John B. Ratto was received with hearty applause, as many of those present had heard him before and knew what to expect. His impersonations were true to character, and depicted the child in different stations of life from the school boy and girl speaking pieces to the rough daredevil newsboy of our cities, the German, Irishman, Italian, Englishman, and so on. His reading from the book "The Man Without a Country" was very impressive and full of feeling. Another extremely good impersonation was the recital of one of Kipling's poems by a low caste Englishman, formerly in the service of India.

Ott to Lecture Tomorrow.

Mr. Landon's announcements of the evening laid special stress on Edward Amherst Ott, who will lecture Thursday afternoon on "Will Your Dream Come True?" Mr. Landon asked that the merchants close their stores one afternoon during Chautauqua, and suggested that it be done on the afternoon of Mr. Ott's lecture. He did not ask it as an aid to this particular Chautauqua, but as an incentive to the movement in general to help this year's Chautauqua, next year's, the next year's, and so on.

EDWARD AMHERST OTT,
Who Will Speak on "The Spenders" at Chautauqua Thursday Afternoon.

On Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock Prof. Cameron and his class in nature study took up the study of bird life. Great interest is being taken in this work by the many that have joined the class. On Thursday morning the class will meet at 9:45, when they will take up insect life, showing the life history and how to get rid of the injurious germs.

Wednesday morning Prof. P. O. Landon addressed one of the most enthusiastiv audiences yet assembled at the Chautauqua. Mr. Landon's theme was the opera, in explanation of tonight's performance by the Hinshaw Grand Opera company. He first explained the building of an opera, the use of the motive, the chorus, and principle characters. Then followed a sketch on Wagner, the great composer. Mr. Landon explained the difference between the early operas, such as "Il Trovatore" and those of Wagner and his successors. In the early operas melody was the chief thing sought after, but Wagner made his music fit the plotfi and if there is harshness or discord in the plot it is brought out in the music also.

The operas that will be partly depicted by the Hinshaw Grand Opera company were then explained.

When Prof. Landon had finished the people called for more, and would scarcely let him quit talking.

"Music Appreciation."

Very favorable comment is heard of the address on Monday morning of Director P. O. Landon of the Maryville Conservatory of Music, who stepped out of his place as manager of the Chautauqua long enough to give to his hearers the best practical talk on "Music Appreciation" that has been given here. He said people did not have to be musicians to be able to appreciate good music. It was very comforting to hear him say that those who enjoyed the old hymns that have stood the test of time are lovers of real music. He talked entertainingly of various classes of music, and played several sonatas by Beethoven, explaining the movements and interpreted them in such a way that one not a musician could understand, in a measure, the meaning of the composer. We do not need to depend on Gunn or Kroeger or Quarles to tell us what music means. We have one among us who is not without honor.

DIED AS THE RESULT OF A KICK FROM HORSE

John Leland Palmer, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Palmer, living nine miles northeast of the city, died at St. Francis hospital at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, as the result of a kick by a horse. As was told in Tuesday's daily, the child was riding in the buggy with his mother and two younger brothers, when the harness broke and frightened the horse so he began kicking to get loose. One of the horse's hoofs struck Mrs. Palmer below one knee, inflicting a painful injury. The other struck Leland Palmer over the right temple. The physicians who were called, Dr. J. H. Todd and Drs. Wallis, brought the child to the hospital, where six pieces of bone were removed from the brain. He died a short time after the operation. It was a hopeless case. The body was taken to the home of the parents late Tuesday evening and funeral services will be held Thursday morning at the home. Burial will take place at Quitman.

Here from Alabama.

John Munn of Bay Minette, Ala., arrived in Maryville Tuesday evening for a week's visit in Maryville with his brother, David Munn. Mr. Munn went to Alabama last fall and is much in love with the country. He has a farm near Bay Minette. He reports the Munn family as pleased with the new country and enjoying good health.

Returned Home.

Miss Florence Shullenberger, who has been a patient at St. Francis hospital for two weeks, having had an operation performed for appendicitis by Dr. Vilas Martin, was taken to her home Monday evening.

Miss A. Stiffler of Sedalia, who has been visiting her brother, William Stiffler of this city, left for her home Wednesday.

WATER SUPPLY LOW

STATED THERE IS A SHORTAGE OF WATER IN RIVER.

COMPANY IS WORKING

Men Up the River and It is Thought That It Will Not Be Necessary to Cut Off the Service.

The city water supply, it is stated on good authority, is getting low again. While there is enough water to last for some days at present, unless a rain is had soon Maryville might be confronted again with being without water.

Manager Roseberry said to a representative of this paper that he thought there would be no danger of cutting off the service again, but that the supply was getting low. He said the lake and reservoir are full, and in case of another shortage they would be in better shape than they were last month. The water company, according to Mr. Roseberry, has several men working up the river.

Water for the new drinking fountain which has been installed at the corner of Fourth and Market streets, was turned on Tuesday, but Wednesday morning, it is stated, the water company shut it off on account of the water supply being low.

YOUNG MEN ON EASTERN TRIP

George Herren, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Herren of East First street, went to St. Joseph Tuesday afternoon, where he was joined by Henry Toel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Toel, and together the two young men will make an extended tour, visiting Chicago, Washington, D. C., Quebec, Montreal, Canada; New York City, Niagara Falls, the great lakes, and at Pittsburg, Pa., where Mr. Herren's sister, Mrs. Wray Dudley, lives. They will visit for several days at Pittsburg. Various other points of interest will be visited by the young men in the eastern states and in Canada. They will return home by way of St. Louis.

off the indebtedness in twenty years.

Now let's figure a little on the franchise the water company is demanding from a municipal standpoint, and in figuring this proposition let's figure from facts as far as we can, and when we can't be sure of facts we will let suppositions follow. The water company's books show that in 1909 it was $15,207.79; in 1910 it was $15,154.69, an average of $15,181.24 per year, and we are now paying 33 1-3 per thousand gallons for water and 50 cents minimum, and the water company is demanding an increase of 50 per cent. Now increase your average receipts for 1909 and 1910 50 per cent and you would have $22,771.86 gross receipts per year. The average sinking fund per year for twenty years to pay off the bonds and interest is $7,650 per year. The average running expenses per year is $8,500, but in this expense account is $1,000 salary that goes to Street in New York and taxes of about $500. Here are two items the city would save. This would leave the running expenses $7,000 per year. The deterioration, 1½ per cent, would be $1,500. We will add $1,621,86 for repairs, and now from your total gross receipts, which are $22,771.86, deduct average sinking fund and interest, $7,650, and annual running expenses of $7,000, and deterioration fund of $1,500, and repairs of $1,621.86, and you have $17,771.86, leaving $5,000 net profits per year. Now put this $5,000 profits to work at 6 per cent each year, and at the expiration of nineteen years you have the sum total of $183,916.34. Put the deterioration fund at work the same way and you have the sum total of $45,083.10, making a grand total of profits and accrued interest at the expiration of twenty years of $228,999.44 profits and your plant paid for. This is the franchise the water company is demanding, and Mr. Roseberry says give it to them, and Rev. John says it is not too much.

Now let's go back over these figures. The $1,621.86 set aside for repairs is a guess. It may be too much and may not be enough. The average repairs for 1909-1910 on the present plant was about $1,390. In figuring this proportion there are things to be taken into consideration which are unfair to the city. These figures are based on the water company's books, and we are not doubting their correctness. We are figuring our sinking fund and interest and deterioration on $100,000 investment, when probably it would be much less, and we are figuring the same amount of water consumed in 1910 as in 1930. This does not look reasonable. We are figuring 6 per cent earnings on profits and deterioration fund. This may be too high. It is hard to tell what changes there will be in twenty years, but figure it at 4 per cent and you will have money to burn and lock in the vault each year for nineteen years, and you will have at the expiration of a twenty-year franchise $119,981.52 in cold cash and own your water plant free from incumbrance. And yet some people say give the water company this franchise. If you don't taxes are going to eat you up.

Under the old franchise we were paying 25 cents per thousand for water, with no minimum. That franchise expired about six years ago. At that time they asked for a 50 cent minimum, but no raise per thousand. Compare it with what they are asking today. Since their franchise expired four mayors and as many different councils, in fact as many again aldermen, have tried to settle this water question. Right here I want to say to a few persons who are fighting Mayor Robey and his council more than they are the bond issue, that they have done and are doing everything they can to settle this question. At no time has their policy been to rule or ruin. They have called a mass meeting to see what was the wishes of the people, and they are at their service.

On the other hand, what has been the attitude of the water company. I don't want to be personal in this matter, but I think the people had ought to know the truth. Only a short time ago the management of the company called on the mayor and council, and he stated he had not called to address them, but only to say the city was out of water. He said they only had water to last twenty-four hours in case of no fire. He was then asked if the company wouldn't sink a well to try and relieve the immediate wants and dangers. He replied that wells were not a success, and even if they were his company would spend no money for improvements without they were given a franchise. He was then asked if the city would bear one-half of the expense of sinking a well on their property and give them the well if they would agree to that. His reply was a refusal as before. At this time one of the aldermen suggested the tapping of some holes up the river. He said he was doing everything that could be done, but he finally admitted he had only one man trying to relieve the situation, and he proved to be a cripple. He closed his remarks by saying he didn't think it would rain before the first of September. We turned the lights out and went home, wondering if the town would burn up. This is the feeling the water company has for the people who have been paying them for their slush for twenty-five years, and Fred Robinson would have you believe if you voted for the bonds you would almost be committing a crime, for you would be giving your city a club to assault an innocent and defenseless corporation.

Now a word to the laboring man, I mean you fellows that have been tooted and told if you would help defeat the bonds that the water company would spend $45,000 for improvements. Let me say to you right here, brother, that this promise is not going to buy you any groceries. Haven't they had six years since their franchise expired to spend this money? If the bonds do carry some one is going to be compelled to spend some money. Why or how much, I can't say, but it will beat a promise.

J. A. FORD.

BALDHEADED MEN.

Ignorance of the Hair Causes Much Baldness Among Men.

Early piety doesn't cause baldness, neither does any kind of piety. Some baldheaded men console themselves with the idea that baldness is caused by a superabundance of gray brain matter, and would have the world believe that a bald head is a sign of great intellect.

Such, however, is not the case. Ninety-nine times in one hundred, baldness is caused by dandruff germs which dig down deep into the roots of the hair, destroy its vitality and cause it to fall out.

All this may come gradually and take time, but as an up-to-date humorist would say, "What's time to a dandruff germ?"

If you have dandruff, the little invisible, persistent devils called dandruff germs are at work. Destroy them at once, or sooner or later they will cause your hair to fall out and you will be compelled to take your place in the baldheaded class.

In France baldheads are few because men understand how to care for the hair. Parisian Sage is a hair grower and invigorator that is guaranteed by the Koch pharmacy to grow hair if the hair root is not already destroyed, to eradicate dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, or money back.

Fifty cents for a large bottle at the Koch pharmacy and druggists everywhere on money back plan.

over by Misses May and Alma Hotchkiss of this city and Misses Nelle Tobin and Grace Woods of Burlington Junction. Their guests on Tuesday were Mrs. Sarah Wilson and Miss Edna, and Misses Gertrude and Sadie Blair and their guest, Miss Myra Hon of Plattsburg.

"The Bridgets" is a popular tent. This is the name of the new girls' club, whose members are Miss Ruth Montgomery, Miss Ella Walton Frank, Miss Mae Growney, Miss Neva Airy, Miss Grace Sturm, Miss Anna Bainum, Miss Allie Fraser, Miss Ruth Matter. The club has a guest this week in Miss Hope Scammon of Tarkio, who is visiting Miss Ruth Montgomery.

There's a camp named "Knot Inn," and, sure enough, there was no one in. And another named "All Inn," and there was no one in sight. We suppose they were sure "all in," because they could not sleep the night before, because of bugs and locusts and grasshoppers and other night owls of a much larger size that hoot amazingly, and katy-dids that chatter awfully.

The Young Ladies' Bridge club is a mighty nice looking place and everybody who goes there receives a royal welcome. Dr. and Mrs. William Wallis, Jr., who are tenting next door, have the chaperonage of these popular young women. An interesting game at bridge was played Tuesday evening before the evening program.

The happiest place in camp is "Allenville," on Wall street, which is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Allen and their family. They know everybody and everybody knows them. If you don't know them, go around and call. But you must be careful or you won't be able to tell them apart, for they're all little boys and girls together.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Strickler and family of Skidmore are being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Kemp at their tent.

Among those who went into camp Monday evening and Tuesday are J. L. Tilson and family, O. K. Herndon and family, W. C. Pierce and family and their guest, Miss Geraldine Coffey; C. Brown and family and Mrs. Addie Patterson of Bolckow, Mr. and Mrs. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Yeomans, Rev. Alva T. A. Corken of Burlington Junction, and Mrs. S. S. Wolcott of the same place.

And, O land, yes, the Hum Drum camp and the Boy Scouts, and—well, we'll try and tell the rest tomorrow.

Moonlight Hayrack Party.

A delightful time was spent Tuesday evening at Whipporwill camp, three miles east of Maryville, by a company from Maryville, who made the trip on a hayrack. Games and luncheon were the pleasures of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Phillips, who are guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Woodard; Mrs. O. M. Woodard, Misses Lula Miller, Nettie Miller, Ida Seeley, Cleo Grundy, Oma Robey, Helen Bickett, Marie Grundy, Hazel Gove, Lorena Holaday, Lois and Mildred Cummings, Dora, Maggie and Daisy Allen, Lela Thompson of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Bessie Dowding, Verna Woodard, Messrs. Guests from Shenandoah.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Byers entertained at dinner Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Andrews and Mrs. Isabelle Oliver of Shenandoah, Ia. Mrs. Oliver is Mr. Byers' sister, and Mrs. Andrews is the daughter of Mrs. Oliver. The visitors left for their home Tuesday evening in Mr. Andrews' car, accompanied by Miss Marie Byers, who will be their guest for awhile.

TO TAKE AN ORCHARD CENSUS OF MISSOURI

How many acres of orchards are there in Nodaway county? This is a question that is always asked, but no one can answer. While every one knows that there are a great many orchards where fruit is grown to sell, including apples, peaches, etc., no one knows the exact or even approximate extent of the acreage. Now we have a chance to find out what our county has in the way of fruit trees.

The state board of horticulture is making a census of all the commercial orchards of the state, and our county is called upon to tell what it has. Every person who has a commercial orchard, whether large or small, small fruits, or what not, is urged to write to the state board at Columbia and say that he is a commercial fruit grower. He will then be sent blanks to fill out giving details in the way of special kinds of fruit, acreage of each, etc. This is very important, and we certainly hope that the farmers and fruit growers of our county who have commercial plantations will send in their names as above directed at once, in order that our county may make a good showing. The state board promises that as soon as the list is made up that it will be given to this paper in order that we may publish the names and acreage of each grower in the county. This should be attended to at once.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE.

Maryville People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy and other serious troubles. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Maryville proof:

G. W. Hempstead, East First street, Maryville, Mo., says: "When suffering from an extreme sensitiveness in the small of my back, I was advised by a friend to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial. I procured a box at Charles A. Love's drug store and they lived up to representations. I have never had any trouble from my back or kidneys since."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

WILL STUDY POULTRY IN COLUMBIA

Beginning September 1, 1911, the Missouri college of agriculture and experiment station is to have a regularly organized poultry department. The purpose of the new department is to investigate the various diseases and pests that affect farm fowls, to study the relative utility of different breeds of poultry for various localities of the state, to experiment with the problem of feeding poultry for breeding purposes and for market, besides giving regular courses of instruction in poultry husbandry to students.

The federal experiment station at Columbia with its well equipped demonstration rooms and laboratories offers exceptional advantages for carrying on the proposed line of work. The new three-story veterinary building, now nearing completion, will supply unusual facilities for the investigation of poultry diseases and methods of combating them. Moreover, all the work of investigation and experimentation will be carried on where hundreds of students and thousands of farmers can come in direct contact with it and learn the lessons of successful poultry growing at first hand.

So while the new poultry department will find at Columbia a home already largely equipped and fitted to its needs, every one of the four hundred and more students, every one of the ten to fifteen hundred farmers who come to Columbia during "farmers' week," every visitor to the university, will find there an agricultural college and experiment station fitly representing and caring for the great and growing poultry interests of Missouri.

TAFT VETOES STATEHOOD BILL

President in Special Message Condemns Recall of Judges.

DESTRUCTIVE OF FREEDOM.

Executive Says Unpopular Parties to Litigation Would Have No Chance Where Courts Operate Under Legalized Terrorism.

Washington, Aug. 16.—President Taft in a special message to the house of representatives, vetoed the joint resolution providing for admission of New Mexico and Arizona to statehood. His reason for exercising the executive power of veto was based on his thorough disaproval of the recall of judges clause in the Arizona constitution. The fact that New Mexico's statehood was bound up with that of Arizona, meted out to it the same fate and neither territory can come into the union at this time unless friends of the joint constitution in congress can muster the necessary two-thirds vote to pass the resolution over the president's veto. This may be attempted.

The president did not spare words in condemning the recall feature of the Arizona constitution, which he said would compel judges to make their decisions "under legalized terrorism."

The recall provision would operate against all elective officers of Arizona, including both county and state judges. When twenty-five per cent of the voters of the previous election petitioned for a special election to remove an official such an election would be compulsory.

Destructive of Freedom.

"This provision of the Arizona constitution," the president says, "in its application to county and state judges seems to me so pernicious in its effects, so destructive of independence in the judiciary, so likely to subject the rights of the individual to the possible tyranny of popular majority and therefore to be so injurious to the cause of free government, I must disapprove a constitution containing it."

Much of the message was devoted to a discussion of the functions of the courts under the constitution. The president dwelt at considerable length on the necessity for freeing the judiciary as much as possible from politics or popular influence. And, referring to the recall provision he asked:

"Could there be a system more ingeniously devised to subject judges to momentary gusts of popular passion than this?"

Congress May Adjourn Tuesday.

Adjournment of the present session of congress Aug. 22 at 4 p. m. was provided for in a concurrent resolution offered by Senator Penrose of Pennsylvania, chairman of the finance committee.

The resolution was referred to the committee on appropriations after Senators Cummins and Bristow had declared that they would oppose vigorously the adjournment of congress until other tariff schedules, particularly steel and sugar, had been taken up and disposed of.

Senate Adopts Wool Report.

The senate by a vote of 38 to 28 adopted the conference report on the wool tariff revision bill already adopted by the house. The bill now will go to the White House for the expected veto of President Taft.

CRISIS NEAR IN MOROCCO

Fleets of England, Germany and France Take Positions There.

London, Aug. 16.—Interest was taken in the German occupation of Agadir, Morocco, from which position Germany refuses to budge, when the announcement was received from Gibraltar that the British Mediterranean cruiser fleet had sailed for Tetuan, Morocco. The French warships, Forbin, Klansguenet and Surprise, have also sailed for Casa Blanca. Germany has two or three warships at Agadir and with the warships of Great Britain and France assembled at other Moroccan ports the Moroccan situation has an ugly appearance.

Army Adopts Campaign Hat.

Washington, Aug. 16.—The army has adopted a campaign hat. It has a three-inch straight, stiff brim and a five-inch crown with the "Montana" peak. The "Montana" peak is produced by four indentations of the crown, bringing it to a point at the top. The hat is a compromise of two types submitted by the infantry and cavalry boards.

Hunter Killed in Scuffle.

Solicitor Replies to Testimony of Chemists.

DIDN'T CHANGE COURT RECORDS

He Says Missouri Tribunal Rendered an Opinion on a Point Not Charged in Complaint—Dr. Wiley Takes the Stand.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Dr. Henry H. Rusby, dead of the New York College of Pharmacy, whose employment as a government drug expert at $1,600 a year has brought criticism and threatened dismissal on Dr. H. W. Wiley, chief of the bureau of chemistry of the department of agriculture, and his associates, testified before the house committee which is investigating the matter. Solicitor McCabe also testified.

Mr. McCabe appeared at his own request to refute statements reflecting on him made by officials of the chemistry bureau.

He was asked whether there was a regulation in the department against employes holding stock in private companies.

He produced an order of Secretary Morton, issued in 1905, prohibiting employes from holding stock in corporations in lines of work on which they were engaged.

There was another order, said Mr. McCabe, prohibiting employes of the chemistry bureau from giving information to district attorneys in cases affecting the department. He defended this order declaring that "we would have chaos if all our inspectors were writing to United States attorneys on our cases and giving their views and ideas of how the cases should be handled."

Did Not Change Court Records.

Mr. McCabe declared the food and drugs act had been "vigorously and effectively enforced." He explained the Missouri court judgment in which he had changed "benzoic acid" to "caffein." He said the department had not charged that the article was adulterated with benzoic acid and that the suit had not been brought on that charge. "I want to make it clear to the committee that I have not falsified nor changed court records," said Mr. McCabe.

"If Dr. Kebler testified that officials of the bureau of chemistry are prohibited from giving information to members of congress, he lied," declared Solicitor McCabe to the committee. When members of the committee objected to such language, Mr. McCabe modified the statement to "falsenood" and finally he was induced to withdraw it altogether. Dr. Kebler is Dr. Wiley's assistant. Former Representative Hepburn of Iowa, attorney for Dr. Wiley, was reprimanded by the committee during the discussion for declaring that the remark was "illustrative of the character of the witness."

Dr. Rusby on Stand.

When Dr. Rusby took the stand Representative Floyd asked:

"Are you connected with the government service?"

"I have been," said Dr. Rusby, "but I don't know wehther I am or not."

"Have you had any notice of dismissal?"

"No, but I haven't received any salary lately and my expense accounts are all held up."

Dr. Rusby said that he received $20 a day from the government for the time he worked when first employed. In 1909 this was reduced to $9 a day because the government could not pay more. Later he demanded $50 a day for an appearance as an expert in court, but this was refused. The $1,600 a year contract for eighty days' work then was made with him. Dr. Rusby said that in reality he worked more than eighty days a year.

Dr. Wiley took the stand, but he had barely finished a recital of his official service when the committee adjourned.

DEFECTS IN MACHINES CAUSE

Badger Is Killed in Wreck of Monoplane and Johnstone Falls Into Lake Michigan—Deaths Show the Fragile Nature of the Aerial Craft.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Two aviators, both young men, lost their lives at the international aviation meet here. In dying, both revealed the frailty of the craft in which two score more aviators were curving and gliding about in the air, with scarcely a pause for the deaths of their contemporaries.

Death in both cases was due to unexpected accidents, probably the results of unsuspected defects in the mechanism of the machines and in no way was caused by carelessness nor lack of responsibility of the drivers.

William R. Badger, a wealthy youth, careened to his death in a pit in the aviation field. There had been a flaw in one of the wings of the propeller of the Baldwin machine he drove. Centrifugal force broke the propeller, unset the delicate equilibrium of the machine and Badger dashed 100 feet to the bottom of the pit, his neck being broken.

St. Croix Johnstone fell 500 feet under his engine and was drowned as the result of an equally unsuspected defect. Caught under the heavy engine in the Moisant monoplane, he was carried deep into Lake Michigan, and his body was not brought to the surface until an hour later.

Badger was removed from the wreck unconscious. He was caught beneath the engine and badly crushed. Blood flowed from numerous cuts on his head. He went into a deep pit on the field that had never been filled, and was executing a spiral dip when his machine doubled up like a piece of paper and fell to the ground.

LIVERPOOL IS UNDER ARMS

Presence of 3,000 Troops Has Salutary Effect on Rioting.

London, Aug. 16.—Liverpool, the storm center of the strike which is menacing the trade of Great Britain, is under arms. In addition to its own police and reinforcements from the surrounding cities, 3,000 troops of infantry and cavalry under General Mackinnon Wood, were quartered in the city. These troops, as was shown during the riots of the early morning, were prepared to back up the police with force of arms in maintaining order.

The riot in Great Homer street, while not directly connected with the strike, has had a good effect in its outcome, as the rowdy element was subdued. The trouble began when a constable arrested a man for having assaulted a woman. Roughs rescued the prisoner from the officer, and police reserves, who were hurriedly called, could not control the mob, which vented its fury in wrecking the shops of the neighborhood. Then 200 troops were brought to the scene.

The soldiers were at once made targets of bricks, bottles and other missiles hurled from roofs and windows of nearby buildings. Several soldiers and police received slight wounds. A bayonet charge was ordered and when this failed to clear the streets an order to fire into the air was given. Two volleys were discharged over the heads of the rioters with great mordl effect. A number of the rioters were wounded by bayonet charges, but none was hit by bullets. Many of the mob were arrested.
